

UNIONS WARNED NOT TO STRIKE

CHICAGO, Oct. 21—(By the Associated Press)—The United States railroad labor board today, backed by all the authority which the government can place at its disposal, called the railroads of the country and the five unions to appear here next week and solemnly warned the unions not to strike until the board has heard their grievances and rendered a decision. The board's action virtually means that there will be no strike October 30, unless the unions should choose to openly defy the government, for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the board before that date. The hearing will be open to the press and public and with more than 299 railroads and approximately 30 unions involved either directly or indirectly, probably will last several days.

While the transportation act gives the board no power to enforce its decisions, it is understood that last week's conferences between President Harding, members of the board, Attorney General Daugherty, Secretary of War Weeks and the interstate commerce commission placed all the departments of government in accord as to what shall be done if either side moves in open defiance of the labor board.

Should the unions refuse to abide by the board's order, it has been pointed out, the board will, under the law, issue a statement to the public to that effect, and the president and his advisers can then proceed to take such action as they consider necessary.

Cited To Appear Before Rail Board

CHICAGO, October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The United States railroad labor board at 1:15 this afternoon passed a resolution citing the big four brotherhoods, the Switchmen's Union and all railroads named in the wage reduction order of July 1, to appear next Wednesday, October 26, at 10 a. m.

They were cited to appear that the board may determine whether they have or are violating the wage reduction orders. The board also said that insofar as the threatened strike is the result of a dispute between the carriers and their employees concerning wages, rules and working conditions, "this board hereby assumes jurisdiction of such disputes on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce."

Meanwhile, both parties to the dispute were warned to maintain the status quo on the properties of the carriers. The action by the board followed a conference which began at 10 o'clock. Board members declined to say whether they had been in touch with Washington by long distance telephone during the morning.

May Use War Power To Keep Trains Going

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 21.—Whether to resort to the war power of the federal government to maintain railway transportation in event of the threatened nationwide strike of railroad workers is understood to have been under consideration today by the administration.

After the regular cabinet meeting it became known that some members of the president's official family had advised him to use the war time authority to prevent the threatened strike from seriously interfering with the transportation of necessities. The provision authorizing the president to take such steps is a part of the national defense act which continues in force until there has been a formal proclamation of peace.

IRISH PARLEY NEARLY BROKE UP

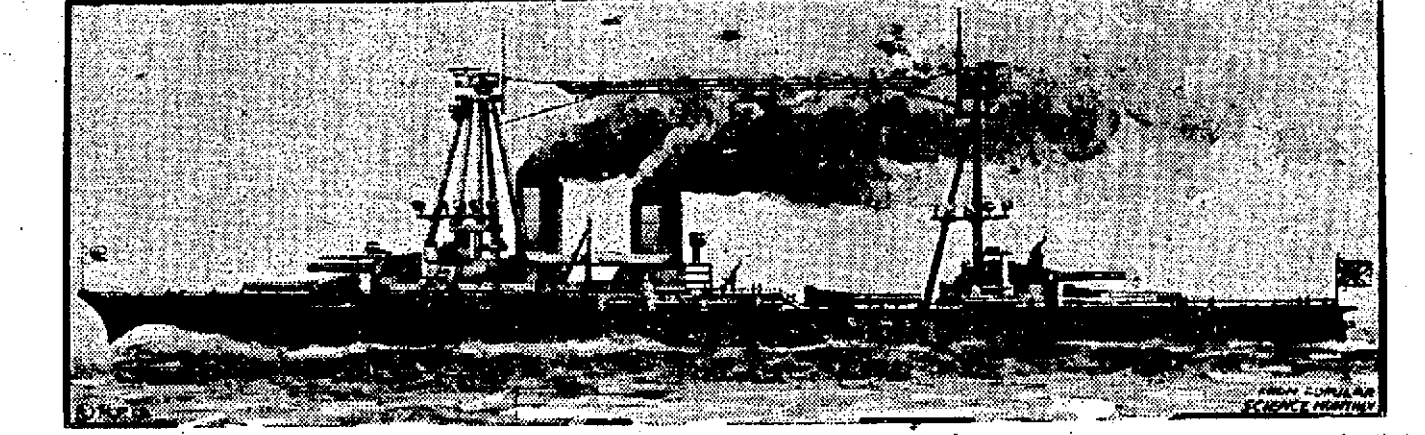

LONDON, October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The negotiations between British officials and Irish leaders today barely escaped being definitely broken off and for a time it seemed possible that the Sinn Fein delegates would return to Dublin tonight. It was learned after today's adjournment was taken. The Irish delegates still were apprehensive this afternoon that the session scheduled for next Monday might be the last.

JAPAN'S NEW SUPER-DREADNAUGHTS SURPASS AMERICA'S MIGHTIEST

This is a drawing of Japan's new monster battleships, Kaga and Tosa, which, as units in Japan's 1915-19 naval program, are to be launched shortly. They will be the largest and most powerful warships the world has ever known, says the current issue of Popular Science Monthly. The picture portrays the enormously costly naval construction in which the powers will henceforth be forced to compete, unless the disarmament conference, at Washington, results in a limitation of armaments. When completed the ships will cost about $40,000,000 each. Normal displacements of the ships are about 41,800 tons as against 32,000 tons for the Maryland, pride of the United States navy, and 41,200 tons for the prize British battle cruiser Hood. Their main batteries will fire a broadside of no less than 24,000 pounds, as against 16,784 for the Maryland and 15,000 for the Hood. The length of the ships is 700 feet and the beam 104 feet normal, and 108 feet at the extreme. Ten 16-inch guns, mounted on five turrets, two to a turret, five a shell weighing 2,400 pounds, at a speed of about 2,700 feet a second, that will pierce 12 inches of armor at a range of 12 miles. Twenty-two 5.5 inch guns and mounted high which will make them available in all kinds of weather. There are four anti-aircraft guns and four deck and four submerged 21-inch torpedo tubes. Japanese built turbine will drive these ships at a normal speed of 23 knots.

AMERICAN BUILDINGS GUARDED

PARIS, October 21.—Police authorities throughout France were today carefully guarding American consulates and other buildings occupied by citizens of the United States, as a result of a flood of threatening letters received by Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, and Alexander M. Thackara, American consul general here. These letters came as a sequel to the explosion of an infernal machine in the home of Ambassador Herrick on Wednesday and were believed to point to a widespread plot to attack Americans in this country. All the letters protested against the sentence to death of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, two Italians convicted last summer of first degree murder in a Massachusetts court. They asserted that American officials in France were representatives of the American government and that as such would be attacked.

ADMIRAL BEATTY GETS ROYAL WELCOME

NEW YORK, October 21.—Escorted by a squad of American destroyers which "picked the liner Aquitania up before dawn off Ambrose Lightship, Admiral Earl Beatty, of the British navy, arrived here today as the guest of the American Legion. The batteries of Forts Hamilton and Wadsworth thundered a salute of 19 guns as the liner bearing the commander of the grand fleet during the world war slipped past on her way to quarantine. Admiral and Lady Beatty were to be greeted at quarantine by American Legion and the state and municipal governments, and taken off to the yacht cutter Vigilant. The Vigilant was scheduled to land at the battery shortly before noon when the visitors would be escorted to the city hall to receive formal greetings from Governor Miller and Mayor Hylan. During their stay in New York, Admiral and Lady Beatty will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field. Lady Beatty is a daughter of the late Marshall Field, of Chicago. After the formal welcome, Admiral Beatty planned to remain in quarantine, and will not attend any formal functions until he starts for Washington on Sunday to pay his respects to President Harding and cabinet members. After the legion convention Admiral Beatty will go to Washington, where he is to serve in an advisory capacity to the British delegation at the armament conference. Rear Admiral Hughes Rodman, who commanded the American squadron as a unit of Admiral Beatty's grand fleet during the war, will act as official aide to the British sea hero during his stay here.

Only An Immediate Settlement Can Prevent Walkout As No Provisions Were Made To Suspend Strike, Say Unions

CHICAGO, October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Lack of any provision by the unions for suspending the railroad strike, called for October 30, made it impossible to accept the plan offered by the United States railroad labor board yesterday, it was said today in union circles. The strike authorizations provide only for ending the strike, presumably after a settlement, which, union leaders have maintained, must involve more than the question of the July wage reduction on which the strike was technically called.

The board, it was said, presented three proposals to the presidents of the big four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union. They were: 1. The railroads to make a reduction in freight rates corresponding to the wage reduction of July 1, less such reductions as have already been made since that date. 2. The roads to refrain from asking the United States railroad labor board for a further wage reduction until the last cut has been translated into rate reductions. 3. The unions to suspend or withdraw their strike order. These proposals made no mention of overtime and other rules, promulgated under federal control, which the employees seek to retain in toto, and which the board has been resisting. The brotherhood chiefs declare their strongest fight in any strike settlement will be made on these rules. THE FIVE UNION PRESIDENTS WERE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE FIRST TWO BUT DECLARED THEY HAD MADE NO ARRANGEMENTS FOR SUSPENDING THEIR STRIKE AND ANY SETTLEMENT MUST BE MADE BEFORE OCTOBER 30, OR THE WALK-OUT WOULD AUTOMATICALLY BECOME EFFECTIVE.

The board, it was reported today, assured the union leaders that the railroads could not get a decision for months even if they filed their proposed request for a ten percent wage reduction immediately. The board is understood to have pointed out that cases now on the docket would prevent taking up the railroads' application before next March, and that the bulk of testimony naturally expected in a case of such importance probably would stave off the decision for another six months, making it highly improbable that the roads could get an answer before next August or September. The proposals submitted by the board followed closely the advance predictions of the plan they would offer and the railroad brotherhood leaders, who had already declared the plan impossible, made no effort to conceal their disappointment that the board had nothing else to offer. Yesterday's optimism was notably absent in union circles today and in its place was a SEEMING RESIGNATION TO THE BELIEF THAT THE STRIKE NOW IS INEVITABLE UNLESS PRESIDENT HARDING ASSUMES THE INITIATIVE WITH SOME DRASTIC STEP.

VOTE TO JOIN THE RAILROAD STRIKE

CHICAGO, October 21.—The United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railroad Shop Laborers issued an official statement this afternoon saying 365,000 of their men—98 percent of the total membership—had voted to suspend work in concert with the other unions "as a protest against the recent wage reduction and working conditions."

This Strike Starts Tomorrow

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., October 21.—A. B. Thompson, general chairman of conductors of the International and Great Northern Railroad, on which a strike of trainmen is scheduled for noon tomorrow, declared today the action of the railroad labor board today would not cause a change of plans. "It won't make any difference," he said, "the order to strike has been issued and we are preparing to strike."

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, October 21.—Approximately six hundred members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen employed by the International and Great Northern Railroad, today completed final arrangements for a strike scheduled to begin at noon tomorrow, one week in advance of the date set for the general walk-out of railroad men. The brotherhood officials went to a meeting of members carrying official word from W. G. Lee, grand president of the organization, directing that the strike take place in accordance with the vote of the men, who had favored October 22 as the strike date.

R. D. Frame, of San Antonio, system chairman of the brotherhood, announced the causes of the strike are the same as those put forth in connection with the general walk-out order. It was stated today by officials of the organization that the strike of B. E. T. members would bring out the switchmen and automatically tie up the switch yards of the road. Members of other unions employed by the road will not go out until October 30, it was said.

To Prosecute Fake Promoters

COLUMBUS, O., October 21.—Criminal prosecutions will be started soon in several counties against promoters whose operations are alleged to have fleeced the people of Ohio out of between $2,000,000 and $6,000,000 during the past year, according to an announcement today at the office of Governor Davis. Action already has been started to prosecute officials of six companies, a dozen other cases are said to be ready for prosecution and the activities of at least 200 are being investigated, the executive officer announced. "In the 200 cases, there is reason to believe that at least 75 percent involve law violation and that prosecution will follow," the announcement stated. "All this evidence, we anticipate, will be transmitted to prosecuting attorneys in their respective counties and will be made the subject of grand jury action." More than $200,000,000 has been lost by Ohioans in the last three years by investing in fake stocks, according to W. H. Phelps, state director of commerce, who inaugurated the investigation. All evidence obtained by Director Phelps has been turned over to Attorney General Price. The statement issued by the governor's office pointed out that the penalties for violations of the Ohio blue sky law range from $100 to $500 in fines or a year's imprisonment, or both. In many cases, it was pointed out, the offenses have amounted to embezzlement and are therefore subject to a more severe penalty.

Empire Grange Community Fair Is A Big Success; Will Close Tonight

With four buildings occupied the Empire Grange community fair on Powellville pike, four miles from Wheelersburg, opened Thursday and the committee in charge reports the first day a big success. The attendance was near the 500 mark yesterday, the committee being more than satisfied with the turnout. Like the attendance at the county fair, the attendance on the second day is expected to be bigger and close to 1,000 were expected to attend today. In the crowd Thursday were many from Portsmouth who motored out to inspect the community project.

Nine boy's pig clubs have 12 pigs on display. The livestock exhibit is bigger and better than ever and lends force to the claim that the fair is a county fair only on a smaller scale. Two special buildings have been erected to house the pig club and livestock exhibits.

The big display of farm products is in the Grange hall. This exhibit includes peanuts grown in Scioto county. The display of canned fruits and fancy work is in the school house, all four buildings used being close to one another.

One thing lacking from the fair display is a display of apples. The cold weather this spring having killed virtually all of the local apples. County Agent W. W. Galin has a few apples from his Jackson farm exhibited.

The judges are J. A. Kaufman, county agent of Jackson, who is judging the livestock; George A. Hustman, county agent of Ironton, who is judging the farm products; and Miss Nell Jones, of Wheelersburg High School Domestic Science department, who is judge of the canned goods and fancy work displays. The judges were not able to complete their work Thursday and were busy again today selecting the prize winners.

Lights were installed in the different buildings yesterday and many who were too busy to attend during the day "look in" the fair last night. The fair, which is a big boost for Empire Grange community, will come to a close tonight.

Builders' Club Discusses "Efficiency"

"Efficiency" was the watch-word at the meeting of the Builders' Club, of Portsmouth, held at the Mary Louise Caudy Shoppe, Thursday evening, and which was attended by twenty of the city's progressive contractors. The primary object in the formation of this club, is to create a better fellowship among the various contractors. As the chairman of the meeting, W. Frank Carson stated that competition of course, had always permeated the business, but that those comprising the organization had so much in common that it was imperative that they get together and establish the organization as one that ever had the interest of the public at heart. "We find when we meet together in sessions of this kind that every member is a good fellow and regardless of the fact that we are competitors, nevertheless we should ever hold out the helping hand to each other."

The principal speech of the evening was delivered by Attorney Arthur H. Bannon, who reviewed the business conditions of the country in an exhaustive, plain and lucid manner. Mr. Bannon had prepared his talk with much care and he delivered it in his usual effective manner. He was not there to give advice nor counsel, but he made it plain that efficiency would have to be thoroughly cultivated and reasoned that it was up to all people to render the best possible service in return for his pay. He pointed to the fruitage now being enjoyed by the D. T. & L. railroad under the ownership of Henry Ford, who the employees were working, not only because of the wage but because of the interest they had manifested in the success of the railroad.

Mr. Bannon's talk was not all optimistic—he stating that it is impossible to have prosperity in this country on 35 cent corn and dollar wheat. He pointed out that the farmers of America constituted 90 per cent of the buying power, and that their earnings this year would be on the other side of the zero mark. He feared that many of the men employed on the farms would be forced into other lines of work—meaning that men would be crowded out of places that were now producing a living.

F. W. Sheridan also spoke to the contractors and in his speech outlined the possibilities for more and better homes.

There were 22 present at the meeting which was presided over by Contractor Frank B. M. Corson. An executive committee with Matt Bolman as chairman, was named. The next meeting will be held within the next two weeks with John Walters as chairman.

"Without the treacherous help of cathartics"

A simple food which gradually replaces laxatives

HE who can control chronic constipation without the treacherous help of cathartics makes a 'booster' of his patient."

This quotation from a doctor's essay on constipation carries a message of great significance to thousands of men and women.

It is now recognized that cathartics never remove the causes of constipation. Indeed, one physician states that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation.

For many years there has been pressing need for some simple food that would help restore normal conditions. And now scientists have discovered it in the familiar little cake of Fleischmann's Yeast.

First came the startling discovery that Fleischmann's Yeast in itself is a wonderful food, rich in the mysterious water-soluble vitamin. Then it was found that Fleischmann's Yeast builds up the body tissues, keeps the body resistant to disease.

In addition, because of its freshness (you get it fresh daily) Fleischmann's Yeast helps the intestines in their elimination of waste matter. Fleischmann's Yeast was tested for this purpose in leading medical institutions. Chronic cases of constipation, some even of years' duration, responded.

Fleischmann's Yeast is by its very nature better suited to the stomach and intestines than the ordinary laxatives, and being a food it cannot form a habit.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast a day. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. Eat it plain, spread on bread, or dissolved in milk or fruit juices. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth. It is assimilated just like any other food. Only one precaution: If troubled with gas, dissolve yeast first in boiling water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the interesting booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington St., New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamin preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

Lewis Upholds Sanctity Of Contract

By JOHN L. LEWIS, President of the United Mine Workers of America

President of Mine Workers Explains
His Position in Kansas Dispute

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The action of the International Union, United Mine Workers of America in interfering in the Kansas situation is due only to the fact that the Kansas organization, under its former leadership, has unjustifiably violated the provisions of the joint agreement between operators and miners in that state.

The situation has no connection of bearing upon the Kansas court of industrial relations, to the principle of which the

J. L. LEWIS
International union is as strongly opposed as are the Kansas mine workers. The whole issue is whether or not the officers of District 13, United Mine Workers of America, comprising the state of Kansas, shall conform to the provisions of the wage contract in precisely the same manner as is required of all other officers and members of the United Mine Workers in all districts.

Contracts Sacred
The success of the United Mine Workers has been largely predicated upon the efficiency with which its business was conducted and the fact that it has made an honorable record of observance of contract provisions during the years of its existence.

There can be no deviation from this policy to satisfy the whims or caprices of any individual, who may for the sake of political notoriety, desire to disregard the provisions of the joint wage agreement.

A decision affecting the Kansas situation has been rendered by the international executive board, United Mine Workers of America, and again by a regularly constituted international convention composed of 2239 delegates from every district in the organization.

No Further Appeal
There can be no appeal from the mandate of an international convention on a question of this character, and those individuals who set themselves against the will of their organization are displaying short-sighted judgment, which inevitably will result in disaster to their personal ambitions.

With a desire to liquidate every honorable obligation contained in the Kansas agreement, the international union has now assumed all responsibilities of the contract and the full moral and administrative influence of the organization will be placed behind this policy.

In due time the chaotic condition existing in the mining industry of that state will be abated and tranquility again prevail.

Raspberries Growing In Yard

L. H. Stewart of the Cut Rate Pharmacy on Gallia street claims that Portsmouth has an ideal climate and he has ripe red raspberries to back up his claim. He has a spray of the berries which are growing in the back yard of his new home, 1606 Fifth street.

Says Brother Loaned Him Money

Thomas Holland, 30 years old, was the name given by a man claiming Maysville as his home, who was taken into custody Thursday night by the police and locked up at the city jail where he is held for investigation in connection with the robbery of the Joel

King soft drink establishment at 117 Market street, which was entered Tuesday night and $37.50 in money stolen. Holland disclaimed all knowledge of the robbery when questioned Friday by the officers and claims to have borrowed the $29.75 found in his possession when arrested, from his brother at Maysville.

Steele Hearing Is Postponed

When the case of Harry Steele, of Chillicothe, charged with reckless driving, was called for trial in Municipal court Friday, it was by agreement of all concerned, continued for hearing until Oct. 31. The charge against Steele grew out of a collision between his auto and a West Side bus which occurred at Ninth and Washington street Thursday noon.

Steele's troubles were further augmented Friday when the Home Vulcanizing company tied up his auto through attachment proceedings on a claim in the sum of $34.50 for work put on the car.

May Use War Power

(Continued from Page One) that officials urging that course had gone so far as to draw up lists of men on whom the government could call in emergency to keep enough trains running to supply such articles as food and fuel wherever they are needed.

It was not indicated that a definite decision had been reached, however, and most of the evidence tended towards a continuance of the waiting attitude adopted by President Harding while the negotiations between the railroad labor board and union officials are in progress and while the interstate commerce commission is putting into form its new rulings on important freight rate schedules.

Should the war powers be invoked, it is expected that the war department would be called on to perform most of the duties thus imposed upon the government.

The degree of control which would be exercised over the roads would depend on the demands of the situation and might reach the proportion of direct governmental operation.

Invocation of the war time authority would be expected to follow only in case the union leaders disregard an official notice from the railroad labor board and bring on a strike of such proportions that the railway companies themselves could not keep the centers of population properly supplied with the necessities of life.

Those officials who have advised the president to use his full war powers in an emergency, take the view that although no penalty is imposed for a violation of the railroad labor board's ruling in regard to a strike, the board's power to deliver an edict against interruption of commerce is a power of law which the federal government should enforce. They argue that the absence of penalty does not make the law less binding nor the obligations of enforcement less positive.

Cited To Appear

"Whereas, the board's information is to the effect that said strike is threatened on two grounds, first, in opposition to the wage reduction in decision Number 147 of this board, and second, on account of an unsettled dispute both as to wages and working conditions—

"Be it therefore resolved by the United States railroad labor board:

"First—Insofar as said threatened strike is in opposition to a violation of decision Number 147 of this board, the above named labor organizations and each of said carriers be and are hereby cited to appear before this board for hearings as to the question whether or not they have violated or are violating decision Number 147, and—

"Second—That insofar as said threatened strike is the result of a dispute between said carriers and their said organizations of employees concerning wages and rules and working conditions, this board hereby assumes jurisdiction of said dispute, on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce and said carriers and said organizations of employees are hereby cited to appear before this board at Chicago, Illinois, for a hearing of said dispute.

"The hearing on both of the foregoing matters is set for Wednesday, October 26, 1921, at 10 a. m. Be it further resolved that the secretary of the board notify each of said carriers and its said organizations of employees, both by wire and by mail, of the date of said hearing, and furnish each of them with a copy of this resolution.

"Be it further resolved that both parties to said dispute are hereby directed to maintain the status quo on the properties of said carriers until said hearing and decision."

Alley House Fire

An alarm from box 6 during the noon hour Friday summoned the companies from the two fire stations to Eleventh and Gay streets to put out a small fire which started on the roof of an alley house at the rear of the Adam Pratt bakery. The blaze was extinguished quickly and the damage was trifling.

SOCIETY

O. K. Chapman, celebrated his sixteenth birthday anniversary last evening by inviting about forty of his high school friends in to spend the evening at his home 813 Second street. Upon their arrival the guests showered him with many beautiful and appreciated presents. The evening was spent in dancing and games after which a delicious refreshment course was served by the host's mother Mrs. Warner Chapman and Mrs. Walter Cunningham. A huge birthday cake, mounted with 16 gleaming candles a gift from his aunt, Mrs. O. K. Chapman of Huntington, W. Va., graced the center of the table. The guests departed for their homes at a late hour wishing O. K. many more happy birthdays.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cropper, of Twenty-first street, was the scene of a delightful birthday party last evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of the latter's mother, Mrs. Alfred Miller. The house was beautifully decorated in autumn flowers and the early part of the evening was devoted to cards and later dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Mrs. F. W. Hewitt was awarded a cut glass dish for receiving the highest score at cards. Mrs. Rowe was assisted in entertaining and serving the guests by Mrs. Reed Rowe. The prettily appointed table was centered with a large birthday cake mounted with the requisite number of candles, and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Reed Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Miller, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cropper, and daughter Gertrude and the honor guest, Mrs. Alfred Miller.

Mrs. P. G. Pallafiero of Richmond, Virginia, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Charles Noel of Selote Trail. Mrs. Pallafiero will be pleasantly remembered as Mrs. J. F. Baker of the Baker hotel, Wheelabrung.

The Ladies Relief of the First Evangelical church will give a birthday social next Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school rooms of the church at 2:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served and a delightful program will be rendered during the afternoon. A small silver offering will be taken at the door. All members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to come and enjoy themselves.

The meeting of the Children's Mission Band of the Bigelow will be held in the church the coming winter instead of at the homes of the members. Ted and Robert Hardin will be the hosts tomorrow afternoon at the church, instead of at their home on 1901 Timmonds avenue.

Miss Laura Thompson of 2009 Fifth street who is ill with a nervous breakdown, is very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Halsey of Park avenue entertained at dinner today Mr. Richard Nelson of Kenova, W. Va.

Mrs. Lawrence Untied of Third street has returned from a week's visit at the home of Mrs. R. H. Stone, Mrs. H. E. Roberts and Mrs. Lee Dever of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

Lin Lee and His "Cousin"
By FREDERICK CLARKE

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union)

Nobody ever suspected that there were two Chinamen in Lin Lee's laundry until we met Lin Loo.

Everybody liked Lin Lee. He had cut off his pigtail and he attended the Episcopal church. Like all Chinamen, he had a natural genius for the washbasin.

So Lin Lee became a resident of our village and, as I said, everybody thought he occupied his shanty alone. We thought so until the evening when, having brought home the laundry in its usual highly starched condition, and having received the red paper with its mysterious hieroglyphics which he always left as security, he turned round and whistled and another Chinaman came out of the darkness.

"My cousin, Lin Loo," he volunteered. "He washes well—as well as me. He takes your laundry tonight."

"Where are you going, Lin?" asked my father.

Lin grinned. "Me going to China," he said. "Me fight in grand army of the republic."

Lin Lee disappeared just as mysteriously as Lin Loo had come, but that made no difference. Lin Loo was just as capable a laundryman as Lin Lee. The ladies of our family, in fact, maintained that Lin Loo had a special genius for interpreting the laundry needs of their own garments and, as a result, Lin Loo was to be seen ironing until far into the night in his little store on Main street.

Lin Loo was also an Episcopalian, we found, and when he made his first visit to our church everyone sat up and gasped. He was attired in quite the extreme of fashion, in a silk hat and frockcoat and patent leather shoes. He carried a silver-headed cane, too, and was very devotional in the responses. The rector took a great fancy to him and invited him to his home to discuss theology. Mrs. Stubbs, his wife, was equally attached to Lin Loo.

Yes, it was odd what a general favorite Lin Loo became. Lin Loo was astonishingly well posted in western ways. But he wouldn't drink and didn't swear.

"Any news of your cousin, Lin?" we would ask, as we stopped in to watch him bending over his iron and pressing with his screwy arms. And Loo always looked up and smiled and shook his head.

And when a year had rolled by and Lee had become only a memory, he still maintained the same assurance. Unperturbable, suave, courteous, jolly, Lin Lee was a social asset in our town.

And then the missing cousin turned up just as unexpectedly as he had gone. One evening Lin Lee stopped into our parlor, his basket on his arm, as though he had only left us the night before, and received the red paper from my mother. Then he announced:

"He going to leave tomorrow. No more wash. My cousin, Sam Hoo, has bought my shop."

"And your other cousin—Lin Loo?" was asked.

"He go away," replied our visitor. "No see any more."

It must have been nearly a year after our friends' departure that business called me to Richmond. I was strolling down one of the side streets when I caught sight of Lin Lee behind the glass window of a laundry, ironing as hard as ever. I walked in.

He greeted me with the same cheerful smile as ever. We shook hands and discussed old times.

"Why did you leave us so suddenly, Lin Lee?" I asked. "We all miss you in our town. What was the matter? Didn't we treat you well?"

"Sure—fine," answered Lin Lee with a broad grin. "I come to Richmond to open bigger place, more business. I get married."

At that moment the door opened and a Chinese woman, with a little black-haired, squint-eyed baby in her arms, peered out. I knew her too. It was Mrs. Lin Lee—once Mrs. Lin Loo. She nodded and smiled and shut the door in my face and I said good-bye quickly and went out.

Now I hold no brief for or against Chinamen, but I will say I was offended at this horrible deception at the time. But afterward I began thinking; could he have been alone in our town, the only Celestial within twenty miles? I think he could. I know he could. But I can imagine what dangers he may have feared for her—the young husband, called back eight thousand miles to fight his country's battles, with all her loved dwelling alone among white-faced barbarians.

Different Views.
The late Sir Herbert Tree was commended by a friend for his kindness in giving recitations at a gathering of cripples.

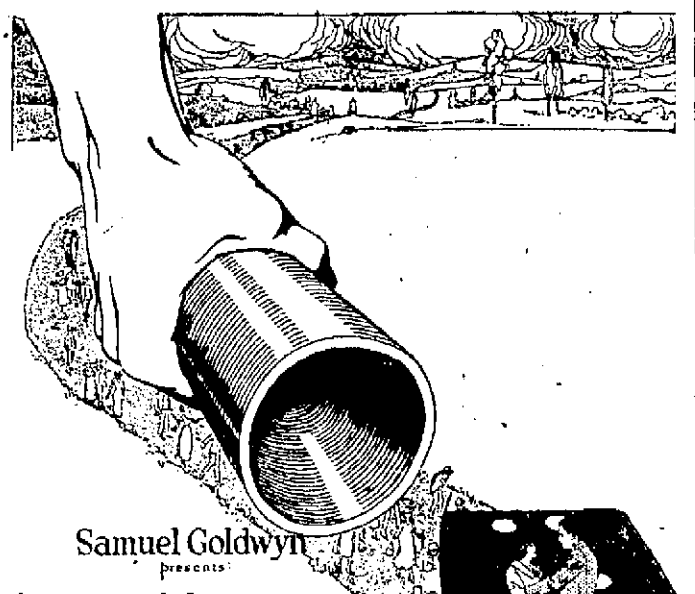

"I don't know," returned Sir Herbert. "Some people seem to think I was taking a mean advantage of the poor fellows' infirmities."—Boston Transcript.

No Chance.
"Marry you?" exclaimed the matrimonial girl. "Why I wouldn't marry you if you had $1,000,000."

"You're right you wouldn't," replied the candid man. "In that case I won't be more discriminating."—American Legion Weekly.

ULSTER THORN IN IRISH PEACE PARLEY, CLAIM

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The most difficult problem facing the Irish conference—that of Ulster—will, it is understood, come up before the full conference tomorrow.

The Sinn Fein delegates having finished their work on sub-committees with the British representatives, have been busy today with their experts concluding their case for presentation to the conference. The Sinn Fein has maintained its determination not to agree to enter the British commonwealth unless Ireland is treated as a unit. An effort therefore is being made from the government side to induce Ulster to consider some means by which, while preserving its local autonomy, it may form a part of the Irish state.

The Ulsterites have resisted all appeals thus far, and the present restlessness in Belfast is attributed to high quarters in London to apprehension that the rank and file of the British representatives at the conference contemplates sacrificing them to the desire for an Irish settlement. They refer to the recent speech at Armagh of Michael Collins, Sinn Fein finance minister, who prophesied that the British politicians would abandon Ulster when it suited them.

All information obtainable in authoritative quarters, however, points to strict adherence by Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues to their Ulster pledges. The opinion is expressed by many persons that it will be possible to construct some plan which while apparently leaving Ulster untouched, will give such advantages to the south as compel Ulster to make terms with the south.

The Sinn Feiners reiterate that it will be impossible for Premier Lloyd George to go to Washington "until a show down has been reached at the conference."

Twenty Four Years Ago

G. H. Heinisch rented his business house at the corner of Ninth and Off-ber streets to William Young for the purpose of opening a butcher shop. Motorists Hiram Copley and Candor. Will Komer were injured, though not seriously, when two street cars collided at Eleventh and Lincoln streets.

The preliminary hearing of Dr. Abbott, charged with the murder of George Elmer, before Mayor Glidden resulted in the dismissal of the case. Attorneys Theo. C. Funk and T. C. Beatty moved their offices into the new building block over Ben Davis' clothing store.

Capt. William Tanner shook the dust of Portsmouth from his feet and left for his home in Zanesville, Tanner made a conspicuous failure here as a husband manager.

Master Mechanic John C. Cullinan, of the N. & W. shops accompanied by his bride, nee Mary A. Lewis, arrived in the city from Zanesville where they were married.

Twelve couples enjoyed a pleasant evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Boulder on Ninth street. Fred Searl, of Sciotoville, entered the law office of his uncle, Judge F. C. Searl, in this city, with the intention of becoming a barrister.

W. H. McCall purchased the downtown restaurant of J. S. Waller. Hon. Lawrence D. Neal, of Chillicothe, was in the city to attend circuit court.

Circuit court convened with Judges Sibley, Russell and Cherrington on the bench. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. George O. Newman, J. W. Bannan and T. C. Anderson were appointed to draft resolutions on the death of the late Judge Milton A. Clark of Chillicothe.

The tobacco of eastern Macedonia used to bring Turkey an annual rental of $2,000,000.

Real Song Service

It is infrequent that more turn out than are expected to perform any volunteer service. But this has happened at the Second church. The first Sunday evening that the Men's Fellowship class organized themselves into a male chorus fifty-eight were present and last Sunday evening when sixty were expected sixty-eight were on hand.

This chorus will be the chief feature of the music on the coming Sunday evening and on the following Sunday evening as well. It is an inspiration to hear them, and a great pleasure to those who enjoy congregational singing to join in the songs led by this splendid chorus. The Second church has always been notable for its congregational singing but these twenty minute song services are exceeding any previous performances. The hymns used are the best and usually those with which nearly everyone is familiar while Mr. Wylie Young is proving an excellent leader.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

GREENSBURG BANKER MAKES INTERESTING STATEMENT

Tells How Two Years of Trouble Was Relieved When Nerv-Worth Overcame His Nervous and Stomach Ills.

"For two years I had stomach trouble," said Nicholas Long of the Merchants Trust Co., Greensburg, Pa., "as a result of this stomach trouble I was nervous and could not sleep, and I was very weak and practically in a down and out condition. I doctored and tried all the remedies I could find in an effort to get relief, but it was without avail until I purchased a bottle of Nerv-Worth. Then my stomach trouble disappeared. I eat well, and I digest my food. I am sleeping fine. I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth to others. You will find a stretch pharmacy and all leading druggists everywhere."

Worth gives relief when others fail, because it scientifically treats both stomach and nervous derangements. It has been found that where stomach trouble exists, nervous ills are usually present. Nerv-Worth, by acting on both the nerves and stomach, quickly gives the desired results, and aids toward restoring health. It first rearranges the stomach, by neutralizing excess acids, stopping the formation of gas, sweetening the stomach, aiding assimilation, stopping fermentation, and helping the whole digestive tract. It also aids nerve force, gives sound restful sleep, relieves dizziness, and other nervous afflictions, and thus, by this combined action, aids in restoring health and vigor to the sufferer. Give it a trial, and be convinced. If your first trial bottle does not benefit you, your money will be refunded. Sold on a money-back guarantee by Fisher & Streich pharmacy and all leading druggists everywhere.

Eagles Will Burn Mortgage

Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Eagles plans were made for a big meeting to be held next Wednesday night when the official opening of the renovated hall will be held and the mortgage on the building burned. It will be burned with fitting ceremonies. After the regular meeting and mortgage burning exercises the members will dance with Journey's orchestra furnishing the music.

Harry Martin and Edward Hall were initiated last night. The dance committee announced last night that Eagle dances will be held twice a week this winter.

CITY PLANNERS ENDORSE MORE STATE PARKS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—Recommendations that statutes permitting the entire cost of an improvement to be assessed upon the property holders benefited by it and that state parks be established along the Muskingum River and in other districts in southeastern Ohio were made at the opening session of the Ohio state conference of city planning here today.

Today's sessions were occupied by Clevelanders telling those present what was done in their city to enforce traffic laws and of the zoning plan at Cleveland Heights.

Adam B. Lintz, secretary of Cleveland Safety Council, declared that education and law enforcement were the prime requisites for city safety. He told of the plan of Cleveland Safety Council in following through cases of traffic law violation and seeing that violators were justly sentenced and of a safety educational campaign carried on in Cleveland schools.

Edwin Baxter, head of the Cleveland Heights City Zoning Commission, told of rules there for segregation of various classes of dwellings and business buildings and urged that similar plans be followed out elsewhere in order that cities may be made more beautiful.

Actions In Plot Committed Under Threats, Declares Woman

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—Declaring that her actions in connection with the plot to kill Dan Kuber were simply her efforts to protect her life, Mrs. Emma Colavito took the witness stand today in her own behalf at her trial for the publisher's murder in criminal court.

Mrs. Colavito was on the stand practically all the afternoon. On direct examination by her counsel, George Spooner, she declared that her companion in the actual stabbing, part in the plot to kill Kuber consisted in giving Mrs. Eva Katherine Kuber a bottle of olive oil to cure Kuber of alleged habits, and in attempting after the crime to obtain money for "black handers" after they threatened her life.

Mrs. Colavito testified that after the murder Salvatore Cala, recently sentenced to life imprisonment and Victor Pisselli, named by Cala as his Attorneys for Mrs. Colavito said that Cala had been subpoenaed from the state penitentiary to testify at her trial.

Republicans Hold Rally In Sciotoville

George E. Matthews, candidate for mayor, was the principal speaker at a Republican rally held in the former village of Sciotoville, now a part of Portsmouth, Thursday night.

During his talk the sage of Rose Ridge got all "hot up" and lambasted the Democrats, challenged the reputation that is being sought for the present Democratic administration, told of his record in the legislature and what he proposed to do when he was elected as the city's chief executive. The candidate also took a fling at the "contemptible whelps" who have been "going down alleys, and snaking around in secluded spots to circulate rumors about what he was going to do if elected," he said, "and I want to say right now there will not be any Blue Laws in Portsmouth when I am mayor and instead there is going to be a sensible, honest, fair, decent, judicious, economical administration if I am elected," he asserted. He charged the present Democratic administration with extravagance and inan effort to prove his stated quoted from statistics which he said he had every reason to believe were accurate.

Makes Tax Comparisons

"In 1919, the last year of Kaps' administration the tax rate was $1.00 per hundred. Council appropriated that year $227,233 for the operation of the city.

"In 1920, the first year of the Gableman administration, with a tax rate of $2, and a higher appropriation, council appropriated $280,369.77 for the operation of the city, an increase of $53,136.77.

"In 1921, council appropriated $434,029.42 for the operation of the city, $207,366.42 more than the last year of the Kaps administration. This makes a total of $209,472.19 more revenue, paid by the citizens of Portsmouth than was paid in the last year of the Kaps administration. And this is not saying that the Democratic administration was receiving much more money than its predecessor.

In closing Mr. Matthews made a plea for the election of the entire Republican ticket and also strongly urged support of W. R. Sprague, the Republican candidate for Municipal Judge.

Short talks were also made by Councilman Charles Schirman, F. L. Sikes, Judge W. R. Sprague, Auditor Earl Chandler, Sherard M. Johnson, candidate for solicitor, and C. B. Groninger, candidate for school board, who made a plea for "free text books."

D. S. Edgington was chairman of the meeting which was held in a garage and there was a big crowd of electors present.

Master Plumbers Told To Use Newspaper Advertising

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 21.—Master plumbers were told by J. S. Greenburg, of Noblesville, Ind., that if they want to increase their business they must get out of the alleys and on the principal streets; use plenty of newspaper advertising and push ahead like other merchants.

Mr. Greenburg is director of the trade extension bureau of master plumbers. He discussed the general plumbing business, giving the Springfield master plumbers much valuable information, the members say. There are about twenty-five master plumbers at the meeting which was held at the Chamber of Commerce.

HOUSE TO TAKE UP FOREIGN LOAN REFUNDING BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Ways and Means Committee in a report to the House today on the Foreign Loan Refunding Bill, declared there was no basis for any belief that authority was sought by the Secretary of the Treasury, either to exchange the war obligation of one country for those of another, or to cancel any part of the money owed to the United States by the Allied nations.

While no such authority was sought, the report added that a specific provision was put into the bill as follows: "That this act shall not be construed to authorize the exchange of bonds or other obligations of any foreign government for those of any other foreign government, or cancellation of any part of such indebtedness except through payment thereof."

The measure will be taken up by the House tomorrow. Democratic members of the committee, in a minority report, insisted that the bill should

The report set forth that at the time loans were being made by this government the possible length of the war and the approximate amount of advances were not known. "Fixed arrangements for repayment were not made," it said, "and agreements in regard to interest rates were indefinite. One thing was clearly understood, however, and that was that the money advanced by the United States would be repaid together with a rate of interest sufficient to reimburse the United States for what it cost this government to provide the money."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—There is a girl in my room at school who acts very unladylike. Among other things, she laughs rather loud and blames it on the pupils who sit near her. She doesn't care what she says in front of people. I don't like her. I have never written her before, so please answer this letter.

MISS TRUE. Nice girls don't act that way, but I don't like her. I rather think she is all right, but doesn't know any better. Her mother has probably neglected to teach her to be a little lady at all times and under all circumstances.

Dear Dolly—As you have given so much good advice, I thought perhaps you could help me. I was employed in a small town for about a year. In the meantime I met one of the leading gentlemen whom I liked very much, right from the start. He always preceded me to the town girls, but he was very jealous. He did not want me to go with anyone but him. The last two weeks of my stay in his town he started making dates with another girl, saying her Sunday night and me Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. You see I really should not have given him any of my time but I liked him and did not want him to think I was jealous. So I gave him the dates and let him love and marry me along with them, which I realize now was a great mistake. We all make mistakes and this was a small one, if it does not go any farther. The night before my departure he had a date with the other girl. I had one with him the night before. The morning I left he called me over the phone bidding me goodbye and wishing me good luck, etc. Now, Dolly, I want to know if you think this man cares for me or not. He said to take me to the train but I was too stubborn to let him. I also told him I wasn't going to write to him and I didn't care to hear from him, which was a lie, but I broke over and sent him a card. I also left town for a few days and sent him a card from there, and it has been three weeks since I left the place and I haven't heard one word from him since. What do you think of such a man? He always pretended he cared for me, but still we played flirting with each other. I think my cards to him were enough to let him know I have forgiven him, don't you? I am a lady, at least I try to be. I have always carried a good reputation, but letting this man love me as I did, I think he has judged me like the majority of girls. I also led him to think I led a sort of a fast life which I haven't and never intended to do so. Let me know if I should write him a nice long letter, or let things go as they are. I love him but I can use my will power and forget him if necessary. What shall I do?

JUDGING FROM YOUR LETTER the man is not to blame for not writing to you, neither is he to blame for loving you. Most any normal man will do that if he gets a half a chance. You are to blame for everything. In the first place you were too soft and easy to get. When he found he could have you without trying to win you he didn't want you. In the second place you were too stubborn, but you were not stubborn the right way, nor at the right time and the right place. When you let him love you perhaps he thought every man that called on you could and would do likewise. If you had been a little more independent and a little less stubborn you might have been Mrs. So-and-So. So are you. If you write him, let your letter be just a friendly one, and don't say anything about loving him to death. Then if he ignores that letter for the love of Pete, let him alone.

Dear Miss Wise—I would like for you to answer a few questions for me. Which way is polite to serve tea cream and cake, just put the dessert on a napkin or put the dessert on a plate? J. E. K. Serve it on a plate. If you put tea cream on a napkin it won't stay there very long.

Dear Miss Wise—Last year you printed a cure for pneumonia, and I have mislaid it. Will you please print it again?

INTERESTED READER. I will print the so-called cure as sent to me, but I want to warn you right here and now if you ever get pneumonia or suspect you are threatened with pneumonia, get a physician immediately as pneumonia is something that needs quick action. You can't monkey with home remedies—if you do, I'll not be responsible for the consequences. Here's what you asked for: One half cup of vinegar, one cup water. Let this come to a boil then stir in one cup of flax seed meal, one teaspoon of pepper if a mild case, and two teaspoons if severe. Spread on muslin and apply with thin cloth between the plaster and the skin. Put one across the chest, one on the back of lungs, and if there is a pain in the side put one there too. This is usually effective in from 12 to 24 hours. As long as it is moist it is effective.

Dear Miss Wise—Where can a soldier of the late war apply to about the homestead that the government offered to soldiers.

EX-SOLDIER. Write to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Department of Interior, Washington, D. C. It may interest you to know that any soldier who served in the late war for a full year of not less than 90 days, and who makes a homestead entry, is entitled to have the terms of service (not exceeding two years) deducted from the three years residence required in connection with a homestead entry.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER V—I HEAR CISSY IS IN LOVE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story is told by May Scott, a girl who attained stardom in the movies when she was about sixteen. Leading characters in the story are her guide and guardian, whom she calls Motherdeer; Cissy Sheldon, a vain leading man; Nandy Anderson, a publicity writer, and his wife Polly, and McMaisters, a producer who believes his girl stars should have had "experiences." Then there are other actors and actresses.

GO ON WITH STORY

DID RECALLER keep her beauty until seventy because she couldn't tell sin when she saw it? I asked. I was joking, but Cissy Sheldon looked long and soberly at the spot where Gnette had disappeared before she answered:

"Some little theory! Explaining why some girls lose their good looks early."

A sharp summons to the set and a crowd of nervous, pushing extras cut-ted our conversation.

Later another interval of waiting off scene, scraps of conversation between Gnette and Rose Montillon, our character woman, floated to me. Gnette was talking excitedly, angrily. She seemed to want everybody to hear.

"Cissy's a piker!" she averred. "So—she passed you up, has she?" Rose giggled. "For who, this time?"

"For good—this time, dearie! Haven't you guessed? Haven't you seen?"

"Sure! I'm not such a dumb-bell! But SHE can't see! Say, Gnette! Is the little kid a saint or a plain fool?"

"I hope to tell you," Gnette prides herself on her slang. "Now just you tie this, honey! Cissy wouldn't get so blame virtuous unless he had fell for a girl he couldn't get!"

I was immediately interested. Whom couldn't Cissy get? Who had reformulated him? I resolved to ask Rose. But my own little portion of movie martyrdom made it impossible for me to put the question to her for a week.

That Saturday I had to do more close-ups than I expected in order to complete a play for rushed release. In consequence of too many exposures to the fierce lights, I reached home with a pair of highly inflamed eyes.

Motherdeer knew just what to do for my eyes. First there was a wash of boracic solution, then a coating of the beaten white of egg, and then tepid compresses, the treatment repeated at intervals.

While I relaxed on my bed as well as I could, considering the discomfort, I meditated on Cissy, what I knew about him personally and what I guessed about him from Gnette's spitefulness.

She couldn't have been so horrid unless she were jealous. She wouldn't have been jealous unless she were in love with the Apollo of the company.

I kept on thinking of Mr. Cyrus Sheldon because he seemed to be the only person sufficiently spectacular and dramatic to keep my mind from the excruciating pain in my eyes.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

ARLINE'S THICKERY AND ITS RESULT

Ten days after leaving Wellsburg Cherry wrote to Ned explaining her feelings about the many questions that so often had worried her for many weeks now. In this letter she also poured out her heartaches, her despair and everything that she had ever wanted to tell Ned, but had hesitated about.

She went on to assure him her trips here and there with Arthur had been perfectly innocent. In fact very often the only reason for her ever wishing to take them had been her loneliness and her doubts concerning him. She apologized Ned for accusing her of being "petty" and "jealous" because of Arline, and begged him to remember that in case he had decided that their marriage was a mistake, she, Cherry, would never put a straw in his way should he wish a divorce. At the end of everything she signed herself, "Your loving but perplexed wife."

For some strange reason Cherry directed this letter to Ned's office. Subconsciously it was because of a desire on her part not to let her mother-in-law see how often she was writing to him. Cherry still felt deeply resentful because of that lady, and knew how she sniffled at "sentimentality."

"Flower Night" Is Splendid Success

Notwithstanding that winter is just around the corner, there was a profusion of flowers last night at the union evangelistic services at Bigelow M. E. church that surpassed the expectations of the most optimistic.

Thursday night had been looked forward to eagerly for almost a week as "Flower Night," and was thoroughly appreciated by the large audience. Early in the day flowers began to arrive, and they kept coming even after the service started. A specially arranged platform, occupied by a large chorus choir back of the flowers, made a beautiful picture.

The preliminary exercises were again unusually interesting. For Mr. Weiland manages to have something different every evening. Last night he was pleased to term the special feature, "Placing the Stars in the Flag." Calling the roll of the states it was joyfully responded to by those hailing from various parts of the union; after which America was sung with unusual vigor.

More than fifty sick and shut-in folks will receive a visit this morning from a member of the Flower Committee, who will bring with her a bouquet of flowers, the scrapbook of their fellow church members; and a touch of the revival spirit.

The preacher of the evening, Rev. Dr. C. E. Chandler, took for his subject, "God's Garden," the sermon being a fitting reflection of the atmosphere which the special evening provided.

He said in part:

"I wish to speak of God's Garden. Not the first garden, with angels standing with flaming sword, keeping Humanity from the place; not the Garden where a river, clear as crystal, flows past the Throne; nor the other Garden, of which Luther wrote, 'Into the woods my Master came, Forspent with grief and shame.' But I do wish to speak of the marvelous Garden in which Hosea symbolizes God's relation to His people."

The speaker gave a superb and appealing exposition of that 14th chapter of Hosea, showing God as the dew; His people to grow as the lily, rooted in love, "his branches spreading," "his beauty as the olive tree," and "his fragrance as the cedars of Lebanon."

In a powerful way the speaker set forth Jehovah as "The Keeper of the Garden," pleading, "Let God walk in the Garden of your life."

If You Want That Firm Flesh "Pep" and Stamina Which Make Winning Warriors of the Gridiron—Just Try Taking Two of Mastin's VITAMON Tablets With Every Meal for a Short Time and Watch the Truly Amazing Results.

Mastin's VITAMON Tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamins as well as the two other important vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C), all of which are regarded as absolutely necessary for perfect health, vigor and proper physical development. By a special process of concentration a proper dose of all of the three known vitamins is contained in an active state in Mastin's VITAMON Tablets.

Mastin's VITAMON Tablets by mixing with your food helps it to digest and provide the health-giving, strength-building nourishment that your body must have to make firm tissue, strong nerves, rich blood, clear skin and a keen, active brain. They will not upset the stomach or cause that bloated feeling, but, on the contrary, are a great aid in overcoming indigestion or chronic constipation.

If you are thin, sunken cheeked, hollow chested, run down and underweight you will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. League Council Fixes Boundary Upper Silesia

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The decision of the council of the League of Nations on the Upper Silesian question, made public here today, divides the plebiscite area in almost equal parts between Poland and Germany, as to the number of communities and provides administrative machinery for gradual inauguration over a period of 15 years.

The long awaited boundary line, according to an official communiqué, will follow the Oder river to Niebisch, assigning 22 communities in this southern section to Germany and 19 to Poland. The line is further placed in detail by the names of villages, the communiqué stating that in this more northerly section, Germany obtains 20 communities and Poland 21. North of Lissa, the frontier will follow the old boundary line to the point where it joins that already fixed between Germany and Poland.

In order to insure the continuity of peaceful economic life in Upper Silesia after the partition, the council of ambassadors is urged to take measures looking toward German and Polish cooperation under the form of a general agreement.

The administration of private railways is left unchanged by the decision, and as for the German railway system a system of common exploitation is to exist throughout the 15 years.

The German mark is designated as the monetary standard of the area for not more than 15 years.

Senate Defeats Tax Exemptions Of Foreigners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—After a two day's fight, the Senate voted today 36 to 29 to strike from the tax revision bill, House provisions defining foreign traders and foreign trade corporations, which under other sections of the measure yet to be acted upon would be exempted from taxation on income received from sources outside of the United States.

Eleven Republicans joined with the world Democratic minority in defeating the provisions, which were originally proposed by the Treasury Department and vigorously defended by the members of the Senate Finance Committee in charge of the bill. The Republicans were: Borah, Idaho; Capper, Kansas; Cummins, Iowa; Harrell, Oklahoma; Kenyon, Iowa; La Follette and Le Roy of Wisconsin; Moses, New Hampshire; Nelson, Minnesota; Townsend, Michigan, and Willis, Ohio.

Senator La Follette led the fight against the provisions. Committee members contended that the exemptions proposed were necessary in order that American firms might compete in foreign markets on an equal footing with foreign concerns, but Senator La Follette and others contended that such exemptions were not granted by other countries.

CONTRACTS TO MOVE TOWN OF OSBORN LET

DAYTON, O., Oct. 21.—Contracts were signed tonight for removal of the town of Osborn from its present location in the Miami conservancy district to a new site more than a mile away. Sheeler and Sons Company, Columbus and Chicago, will begin preliminary work at once and actual moving July 1, 1922. The work must be completed October 3, 1923. Steam and interurban lines already have moved their tracks out of the flood district and to the new site of the town.

ARREST JUDGE WHO FAILED TO STOP AND AID

PASADENA, CAL., Oct. 21.—Federal Judge Bagmonis, of Duluth, Minn., who has been sitting recently at Salt Lake City, was taken into custody today, after, according to the police, he had failed to stop and render aid to Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, after the automobile he was driving had struck and slightly injured her.

Motorcycle officers made a chase of seven blocks before catching up with the judge, they said. They took him to the police station where he was released on $1000 bond pending a hearing tomorrow. The police said they would file against him a charge of failing to render assistance, failing to report an accident, or both.

Spend Big Sum To Prosecute Him

TOLEDO, O., October 21.—Henry L. Doherty, resumed the stand today in the case of Jesse C. McDowell, Pittsburgh millionaire, charged with using the mails to defraud the Cities Service Company, of which Doherty is head, of more than a million and a half dollars, while acting as an agent for the Doherty interests in the purchase of the Breaux Pipe Line Company and various other properties throughout the United States.

Schroeder To Enter The Aerial Derby

KANSAS CITY, October 21.—Major W. Schroeder, the aviator, who on February 27, 1920, rose to an official altitude of 33,000 feet over McCook field, Dayton, Ohio, has entered the aerial derby of the forthcoming American Legion National convention, it was announced today. Schroeder, who is now out of the army air service, is working in Chicago and has entered three events of the air derby here, as the representative of the Flying Club of Illinois. The events are army aerial acrobatics, including loops, tail spins, etc., the efficiency test race for sport planes, and the junior legion derby of ninety miles over a triangular course. He is also expected to enter the "to Kansas City" race for planes coming to the convention from a distance of over 600 miles.

The announcement said thirty-three entries, including Captain Eddie Ricks, ebuckner and many other aces of the country, have been received thus far, and that many more entries are expected to compete in the legion's air derby.

Closing Arguments In Murder Trial

CLEVELAND, O., October 21.—Closing arguments were begun this morning in the trial of Mrs. Emma Colavito, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Daniel Kaber and the case will go to the jury this afternoon. Each side was allowed one and one-half hours for argument.

Mrs. Colavito was the last witness to testify. Salvator Colavito, brought here from the penitentiary to testify for the defense, refused to take the stand.

Preliminary Celebration

BETHEL, O., October 21.—A "preliminary" celebration, commemorating the centennial of the birth of General U. S. Grant, was held here today and will be continued tomorrow. The object is to arouse interest in the centennial celebration to be held in April in Bethel, where Grant spent his boyhood days.

It was announced today that a movement would be launched to raise funds through subscriptions for the erection of a Grant memorial building in Bethel, to include a museum, in which would be housed mementoes of Grant's life in the little city. Congress has been petitioned to issue 200,000 Grant centennial gold dollars to yield funds for the proposed memorial.

Bethel presented a holiday appearance today. There was a parade with floats of a historical character, bearing upon the life of General Grant. The line of march was past the house in which he was born, and other points associated with his childhood.

'Eiffel Tower of Milk'

So enormous is the consumption of condensed milk in various forms that a year's supply would be no light burden for all the soldiers at present serving in the world's armies. To get a more vivid conception of its vastness, we fashion a column from the number of millions of tons which our army consumes, standing on a base one hundred feet square, will rise higher than the summit of the Eiffel tower, its height, in fact, will be 1,000 feet, and on its top there will be comfortable standing room for four battalions of soldiers.

The Sharing Spirit.

In an orderly house an announcement was placed in the bathroom to the effect that, since everyone shared in its benefits, everyone was asked to take a hand in helping to keep it neat and tidy. That idea carried through. Home would greatly relieve the housewife, and at the same time inculcate the community spirit. A housewife is sometimes driven to declare that the only way to make those about her realize what thought and care are needed to ensure a comfortable home would be to neglect it until this was sufficiently obvious.

In Advance of Their Age.

There are many tragic stories of men who made great discoveries before their time. Their inventions perished, only to be rediscovered and used in later ages. Archimedes, who lived more than two thousand years ago, designed and made a steam engine which really worked. He did not catch on, and the world had to wait twenty centuries until steam raising the lid of a kettle, led him to Watt to rediscover an old invention.

Taste Alone is Not Sufficient.
It will be found that taste alone is not sufficient to obtain the proper end of reading. Two persons of equal taste rise from the perusal of the same book with very different notions: the one will have the ideas of the author at command, and find a new train of sentiment awakened; while the other quits his author in a pleasing distraction, but of the pleasures of reading nothing remains but tumultuous sensation.—Isaac Disraeli.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "figgy" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup—advertisement.

THE IRON MARKET

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "In an early reduction of freight rates, considered fundamental to a revival of the iron and steel industry, has been strengthened by the development of the past week. Those events following closely upon the 25 per cent reduction in iron are rates of a week ago, have brought producers and consumers to a highly expectant state. Disturbing effects on trade arising from the present unsettledness are minimized in the growing demand that the issue of relief from excessive transportation costs now crystallized on the basis of national welfare, shall be settled definitely at this time. Threats of a general railroad strike accordingly are bringing little alarm to the industry even on the most vulnerable side of fuel supplies and few protective measures are being stimulated. While new business in iron and steel is less vigorous this week, mill and furnace operations continue to rise as the result of orders previously accumulated. The Steel Corporation has about 45 per cent of its ingot capacity engaged this week, the best record in some time. Leading independent mills in the Pittsburgh district are on a 50 per cent basis for the first time. In dependent Mahoning Valley steelmakers are running this week at 63 per cent which is the peak level of the present year. Finishing mill activities vary greatly. Possibility of lower rail prices for 1922, delivery depends on the amount and scope of freight rate reductions. It is not likely that the mills will be willing to cut the price, until rates on the raw materials of manufacture are back to the level that prevailed before the August 1920 increase of 40 per cent became effective. A practically stationary condition of the Iron Trade Review composite market average of fourteen iron and steel products is shown. This week the average is $35.50 against $35.46 last week and $35.52 two weeks ago. Reports of European pig iron having been sold to pipe makers in the Delaware river district below $19 delivered have caused some concern among eastern producers. It is now learned that a recent sale of 1000 tons of Swedish low phosphorus iron was made to an eastern buyer considerably below the American equivalent.

Thinking Of Shoes?

Then Think Of Us

It pays to be careful in the selection of shoes. Don't buy them until you know you are getting real value — dollar for dollar. Cheap shoes never give satisfaction — they are sold to you on the theory that they may hold up. When you purchase a pair of shoes, buy those that you know will hold up and give you real service, and satisfaction.

This store sells shoe value — don't forget that.

We handle the best makes in the world — for men, women and children, and we are always here to see that what we sell lives up to every promise. You don't have to pay fancy prices here, for we sell on close margin — and friends, shoes have practically reached a pre-war price level.

Men, we ask you to come in and see the splendid welt, all leather shoe we are offering for $4.50 and up.

Revival Is Well Attended

One of the interesting features of the "evangelistic services" at the New Boston Christian church, Ohio avenue, last night, was the unrolling of a beautiful chart which the evangelist, P. E. Britton made prior to the meeting. The subject of sermon and chart was "The Two Covenants," and by them the speaker revealed some wonderful truths from God's Word. He quoted the text from Jer. 31:31: "Behold, the days cometh saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah." The evangelist said in part. The old covenant was for the Hebrew nation, but the new covenant is for all nations. The term "covenant" is used to designate the divine dealings with a nation or with individuals of the race when God makes a promise we should regard it as a very sacred thing. The divine covenant were ratified with a sacrifice offered. The everlasting covenant of God was planned and the Hebrew children should look in faith to the coming of the Messiah. God made individual covenants with Noah, Abram and David, all agreements were kept by the Lord. The rainbow in the cloud was a token that never again the entire world would be flooded by water.

Overcoats in China.

Ulster overcoats have become popular with the Chinese in Manchuria. The wealthier class of Chinese always wear long outer garments of silk, which are easily damaged by rain or snow, and the long ulster, besides affording warmth, protects the silk clothing underneath. — Indianapolis News.

THEATRICAL

Amateur Night at Sun
Three dandy performances marked the opening of the Sun vaudeville and picture season yesterday. The show is all comedy and singing with enough laughs in Dan Sherman's Ruble Circus to last a long time. The Ruble Circus is the big of the show. Sherman is a master in the show business and with Tess Sherman, his daughter as the star presents a thorough circus act that always makes a big hit. Don't miss this one feature. Davenport and Delane give an act of combined comedy singing, talking and dancing. Sheldon and Wheaton keep up a constant prattle of comedy during their 15 minute talking and singing act. The fotoplay "Soul and Body" is also a feature in itself. Tonight is amateur night. Saturday a children's matinee will be given at 2:30, the admission being 10 cents with a one cent war tax.

W. W. Gates Again Heads Sunday School Institute

W. W. Gates was re-elected president of the Scioto County Sunday School Convention and Institute at this morning's session of the 1921 convention and institute, being held at the First Christian Church where the two days meeting will come to a close tonight. The majority of the officers were re-elected only a few changes being made. The new officers for the ensuing year are: President—W. W. Gates, Portsmouth. Vice-Presidents—Mr. W. H. Lelie, South Webster. C. M. Howland, Portsmouth. Secretary—Mrs. Chas. Ward, Portsmouth. Treasurer—John Brunny, Portsmouth. Children's Superintendent—Mrs. Henry Heer, Portsmouth. Young People's Superintendent—Elmer E. Shoemaker, Portsmouth. Associate Young People's Superintendent—Miss Pearl Eichelberger, Portsmouth. President Boys' Conference—Mr. Fred Price, Portsmouth. President Girls' Conference—Miss Katherine Hidenour, Portsmouth. Adult Superintendent—Rev. H. Wright, Portsmouth. Educational Superintendent—Mr. H. Eccles, Portsmouth. Administrative Superintendent—E. E. Burdett, Portsmouth. The new officers were elected this morning at the close of the session of the election following the report of the nominating committee. County President W. W. Gates presided over this morning's meeting which opened at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. C. W. Brady, of Manly church, had charge of the devotionals. W. A. Adams was not able to be present to give his talk on Bible Geography. J. H. Finney, of Trinity church, gave a splendid talk on "The Work of the Organized Men's Class in the Church and Community." Mr. Finney in his remarks stressed the importance of organized work not only by men but by all church members. He made it plain that the man in the shop, mill and store have a job and that it is just as important that every worker in the church have a job. This means more individual work which may be brought about by organization explained the speaker. He said that the work is like politics and that the right person should be sent out to see the non-member in order to get him or her in church. He said that there is too much time lost in the difference of the various churches when the time should be spent on uniting on the difference. Mrs. W. H. McCurdy of Wheelersburg, a member of Trinity church, gave a talk on the Women's Adult Bible Class. She talked along the same lines as Mr. Finney explaining that a great good could be accomplished by more organized work. Then following the reports from the various townships, the reports showing that the work is better organized and that there is more interest in the work than ever before. The greatly increased attendance at the convention more delegates and visitors than ever before from the rural districts, show that there is more interest than usual. The various officers and superintendents also made their annual reports, after which the officers were elected this completing the morning's program. This afternoon Dr. Franklin McElfresh, head of the educational work of the state S. S. Association, Columbus, Miss Estella Welty and C. E. Dowling of this city were to be the speakers. Tonight's Program 6:30 Superintendents' and Associate Superintendents' Banquet, Dr. Franklin McElfresh, Speaker. 7:30 Song Service, led by Mr. J. Foster Krake. Scripture Reading and Prayer, Rev. William C. Millikan. 8:00 "Church School Administration," Mr. L. E. Butler. 8:20 Offering. 8:30 "The Making of Christian Americans," Dr. Franklin McElfresh. 9:00 Report of Enrollment Committee. Benediction.

W. W. Gates presided at the Thursday evening session in place of W. B. Anderson, one of the vice-presidents of the State Association. Rev. Hugh I. Evans, of Second Presbyterian church led the devotionals after which a spiritual song service was led by J. Foster Krake. Following the song service one minute reports were received from the several young people who attended the State Young People's Meeting at Middletown last week. Those giving reports were Douglas Knowles, Howard Dressler, Mildred Hughes, Roberta Hennessy and Bonny Copas. A ten minute report was given by Miss Margaret Haney. Miss Alice May, a state leader in Young People's Work gave an address on "Youth and Its Needs." She told of the tendency of youth to drop away from the Sunday School and church and that it was the youth who needed the careful attention of the elder people of the church to keep them in by taking a more active part in their social and athletic needs. Miss Ada Rose Demerest, state superintendent of Children's Work was the last speaker of the evening and she described the various children's departments as the children of the church, her subject being "The Church and Her Children." She made a plea for more attention to these departments so important to Sabbath School and church. Wedding Superstitions. If she finds a spider on her wedding dress, or passes a dog or cat on the way to the church, she may face wedded life with a light heart. The first to kneel at the altar, whether bride or bridegroom, will be the first to fall ill, and when leaving the church the bride should be careful to put her right foot foremost and on no account to allow anyone to speak to her husband before herself. To enter the church by one door and leave by another is a certain invitation to misfortune. On a Business Basis. Graham, who is six years old, caught a small fish and waited down street in order to sell it. He went into the bank and up to the president. After a long talk he got a nickel for the fish, which the banker said he would feed to the cat. Graham was about to walk out when the bank president said, "You understand? If the cat doesn't like the fish you will give me my nickel back." "Sure," said Graham, "but I'll expect my fish back."

Donahey Confers With Political Leaders

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—A. V. Donahey, former state auditor, who was a candidate for governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket last fall, was in Columbus today holding conferences with political friends and associates. The conferences revived rumors that Mr. Donahey would be a candidate again next year for the Democratic nomination for governor. No official statements, however, were forthcoming. The hides of cattle and sheep are steeped in birch oil to make Russian leather.

The Mosquito. According to an old negro saying, who has passed all her days in New Orleans, the mosquito is a scheming, treacherous bug. "Here he comes," she says, "close to you, again, lovin' and gentile-like, 'Cousin, cousin.' But just as soon as he's got a good meal he ain't got no more use for you than pizen. Then he flits his ugly, skinny old head and sails away, singin' 'No kin, no kin, no kin.'"

The Serenader Wins a Bride

By MURIEL BLAIR

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Young and rich and good looking, too, I suppose," spoke Harvey Lane. His companion, Willard Price, young and rich himself unfortunately, for he was idle and without ambition, languidly drew a photograph from his pocket and extended it towards Lane. "Pretty as a picture," voted the latter spontaneously. There was real and earnest admiration in his frank, open face. Then it clouded a trifle. He was too poor and humble in his own estimation to dare to aspire for recognition in the upper circle into which his companion had free admittance.

"I knew Miss Drusa Hoyt at Acton," explained Price. "She attended the seminary there while I was at the college. Those were great days—music, picnicking, roving on the lake. My cousin Leona is a dear friend of Miss Hoyt. They met a few days ago, and Leona playfully told her she was going to send me around to give one of the college serenades when I passed through the town here. Drusa is full of life and fun, and insisted she would be delighted with such a welcome reminder of the dear old school days."

"And you are going to twang the light guitar, eh?" smiled Harvey. "With your assistance on the mandolin. Oh, we can make a fine romantic occasion of it, don't you see?" and Price leaned back complacently on the rustic seat of the village park.

"If Miss Hoyt was in my own rather humble class," half slyly returned Harvey, "I wouldn't try to forget that beautiful face, as I must do for my own peace of mind."

There was a rustle in the path circling past them, and Harvey, turning slightly, observed a young girl arise and leave a near seat.

He scarcely listened as Price told of obtaining the picture from his cousin, also of an item he had noted in a newspaper some time previous commenting on the "rare business success of John Hoyt, Esq."

"You see, I'll surprise Miss Hoyt with the song the college fellows sang many a moonlight night under the seminary windows—'Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming,' said Price. 'We'll practice up a bit, steal into the Hoyt garden and give this dear old burg a real sensation.'"

It was almost nine o'clock in the evening when the twins started out. As they left the hotel Price discovered that he had run out of extra guitar strings.

"I'll get a supply from the drug store in case of accidents," he explained. "You go ahead and I'll soon join you."

Harvey reached the Hoyt home. There appeared at its window a feminine form. It was Miss Hoyt. She saw him, uttered a faint cry and then leaned from the window.

"Forgive me," she faltered, "you are a stranger, but—won't you—that is—I am all alone in the house, and some one is below, and I am afraid."

"At once," replied Harvey, swiftly taking in the situation. He dashed up the steps, to find the door open.

Harvey flared a match, found a gas jet and flooded the hall with light. Just then a timid, trembling form came down the staircase. It was Miss Hoyt. Harvey slowly advanced toward the hall, armed with the weapon she had provided. Then, as there was a stir and then a crash, as of a chair thrown violently over, she clung to his arm. The next moment Harvey could not repress a jolly laugh.

"There is our formidable night disturber—no burglar after all, Miss Hoyt!" he exclaimed.

A dog darted from the library into the hall and scurried past them through the front doorway.

"You—you seem to know my name," she began, and then, looking straight at the now somewhat embarrassed Harvey, she flushed all over her face. And just then, too, Harvey noticed a bat with a great blue veil on a hall seat, and understood. This was the young lady he had noticed at the park. Had she overheard the conversation between himself and Price? He wondered, as he retreated to the porch.

"I—I had better explain how I came to be here," he observed—"in the garden, I mean."

"I think I know," smiled Drusa. "I had an intimation of a serenade. I saw Mr. Price today, but did not wish to spoil what he intended as a surprise. Mercy! What is that?"

It was a shot, shouts, a crash—then the jangling strings of some musical instrument.

A little investigation brought out the facts of the case. Price had gone into the wrong garden—that of a jealous, crusty old bachelor, just married. He had observed the guitar-armed serender, had gone for a gun, and Price had run for his life.

And of course the serenader by proxy eventually married Drusa Hoyt.

Not at All Bad. The young R. N. A. S. officer turned to his fair companion and took her hand in his. "Molly," he pleaded, "will you marry me? Once more I ask."

But Molly shook her head. "No, Jack," she said, "for the twelfth time in an hour I tell you, I will not."

Jack rose to his feet. "Oh, well," he sighed, "after all, twelve knots an hour is not bad speed for a little boat like you."—The Golden Gate Sentinel.

An old time "thuse" meeting was held in the High School auditorium this afternoon. The bulls rung with the cheers of the students.

They are bent on doing two things tomorrow afternoon.

They want to beat Jackson and are anxious to make the receipts the

Of course you will, cheerfully. Atta boy.

New Welt Record Is Being Hung Up

More welt shoes are being manufactured in the Selby Shoe company plant now than at any time in the history of the factory, it was stated Friday when it was announced that 5300 pairs of welt shoes were being turned out at the big plant daily.

This is quite a record to hang up, especially at this time when many industries are running on a rather slow bell.

The Most Modern Shoe

Scientists today deplore the wearing of shoes which bind the foot and prohibit the free action of the muscles. Primitive peoples, who wore simple foot coverings of soft skins, had feet that were graceful and sturdy. Their walk was elastic and nifty.

The ordinary stiff-soled shoes of "civilized" races cause many serious foot troubles because they check the circulation and weaken the muscles by disuse. But the modern shoe gives the foot perfect freedom. It supports a weak arch without harmful restraint. The flexible shank encourages the foot to arch and bend, to EXERCISE. It strengthens the muscles surrounding the twelve bones of the arch. In this splendid natural way, modern shoe prevent and correct flat foot.

The Modern Shoe has a natural inner sole line that permits the toes to point straight ahead as they should for comfort. The heel is set to distribute the weight properly, without strain on the arch. Every detail is designed for ease and health, and without sacrifice of good looks.

A Good Sign.

Inquiry is made whether a wave of something cannot be discovered that would add to the sum of happiness as a relief from the cruel waves and suicide waves which we are constantly treated. It is nevertheless a good sign that a wave of happiness is still not new. Happiness is a good deal commoner, and hence more common place, than the pessimists are willing to admit.—Portland Oregonian.

COURT HOUSE

Given Another Chance
After spending eighty-five days in jail on a charge of non-support, Leslie M. Chapman changed his plea from not guilty to guilty when brought into court Thursday afternoon, and Judge Thomas gave him another chance by passing his case on his promise to pay his wife, Mrs. Eric Chapman, of Nauvoo, the sum of $6 a week for the support of their two children. Chapman assured the court that he would secure employment and keep up his payments. He was represented by Attorney W. L. Hostetter.

Gets Suspended Sentence
When the case of Emmett Ashmore, 20 years old, New Boston young man, charged with rape, was called for trial in Common Pleas Court, the accused changed his plea from not guilty to guilty of the second count of the indictment, charging "with consent, and Judge Thomas sentenced him from one to three years in the Mansfield Reformatory and then suspended the sentence pending good behavior.

Lena Belford, 16 year old New Boston girl was the complainant in the case and the alleged offense occurred last February. The defendant was represented by Attorney T. C. Beatty.

Literals Acquired
After deliberating a little more than an hour the jury in the case of Mahala Literal, Harden township woman, tried in Common Pleas court Thursday on a charge of disturbing a religious meeting at the Hoffer Hill church last May, returned a verdict of not guilty. The jury also brought in a verdict of acquittal in the case of Rev. John Literal, who was charged with the same offense, at the direction of the court.

After the verdicts had been turned into court and read by Clerk Ed Cunningham, Judge Thomas took advantage of the opportunity to advise the parties interested in the Hoffer Hill church controversy to try to get together for the good of the cause they represented. "Don't let these little differences destroy your church for it is bad enough for persons that do not profess religion to fall out and quarrel," the court advised, "and if you would follow the Divine Master whose motto is 'Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men' then you forget your petty grievances and go along in the peaceful and happy way."

Committed To Delaware
At her hearing in Juvenile court Friday, Virgie Owens, 17 years old, daughter of Jack Owens, who lives in Leebles addition, New Boston, was convicted of delinquency, and Judge Gilliland ordered her committed to the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware.

Monastery Wine Mystery.
Mystery surrounds an old monastery near South Lea farm, Datchet. The greater part was pulled down some years ago and fire destroyed a good deal of the remainder. There are several deep wells, and it is said that at the bottom of one there are 8,000 bottles of wine placed there by monks, but an attempt to find them has failed. Under the ruins are a large number of earthenware bottles of quaint pattern, and there is a legend that a subway leads from the monastery to Burnham abbey.—London Daily Mail.

Genuine Belgian Charity.
Around a hut where, according to tradition, a young Irish princess was murdered, grew up the present town of Cheel, in Belgium, which became known as "the colony of the crazed." At first a temple in memory of the princess was erected and later it became a refuge for the "crazed in mind." The remarkable thing about this Belgian town is that the residents accept patients in their own homes so that they may enjoy the beneficial effects of domestic and social intercourse.

Water in Which Fish Can't Live.
At the greatest depths of the Black and Caspian seas there is no animal life. In the case of the Black sea this is on account of the presence of sulphureted hydrogen in the water, while in the Caspian there is not enough oxygen at great depths to maintain any form of animal life.

Live on Chestnuts.
In the mountainous districts of Avvergne, the Cevennes, and Corsica the inhabitants have rarely any other fare but chestnuts; these supply the absence of cereals or the deficiency of grain. Crushed into meal, they make a nutritive porridge with milk, or appetizing cakes, or are prepared as loaves, since the meal contains gluten.

Yellow and white was the color scheme used in the decorations. An art basket overflowing with yellow and white dahlias graced the center of the table and streamers of yellow and white ribbons reached from the chandelier to each place. The guests found their place at the table by means of dainty yellow and white place cards bearing the name of each guest. The favors were small yellow baskets filled with white mints. Salad, sandwiches and coffee, and yellow and white ice cream and cake were served to the following guests:

Why Copper Is Superior.
Lightning conductors are commonly made of copper because it "conducts" better than any other metal, will not fuse so easily and is less liable to corrosion. The fusing of metal by lightning is not because of the metal's softness, but because it is too small to give a full path to the earth.

Your "Tip" to the Thief.

In a crowd the thief will often raise a cry of "watch out for pickpockets," and immediately everyone will raise his hand to the pocket in which he carries his money. The thief watches closely and thereupon is informed just where you carry your wealth. The tip pocket is said to be the most unsafe place for valuables as it is the most easily reached by the thief.

Seals Counted Like Sheep.

The only herd of wild animals in the world of which a yearly census is taken are the fur seals of the Pribiloff islands, in the Bering sea. Once they numbered between five and six million, but they were slaughtered so ruthlessly for their skins that by 1905 there were less than a hundred thousand on the islands. Now they are protected by international agreement, and the herd is numbered and counted every year just like a flock of sheep.

Symbolic October Gems.

For the person born in October who wishes to have a ring showing the stone of his guardian angel and apostle for the month a quartz old cut stone worth retailing at 10c is worth knowing that for the aged named Rachel, made is the stone, and for the apostle Simon, the stone is selected. The combination, though symbolic, might be altogether pleasing. The lap, undoubtedly used as the symbolic flower of the month, is sometimes used as the design in an ornamental gold ring for persons born in October.

P. H. S. Ready For Jackson Hi Tomorrow

P. H. S. is all set for the battle with Jackson high school's strong eleven on the sixteenth street lot Saturday afternoon. The team was put through a stiff scrimmage last night with Koege working out at fullback. Much will depend upon this last work in the game tomorrow.

Caulfield at halfback executed some nice runs as did also quarterback Prid. The team had cold water dished on its hopes of not having any more of the regulars out of the game Saturday but in the early part of the scrimmage last night halfback Ellsesser again suffered an injury to his already badly bruised shoulder. Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait was on hand to attend to the injured and he sent Ellsesser home at once and ordered him to take a good rest with the possibility that he may be able to get into Saturday's game. There is a probability that this limping lad may not get into the game. Coach Fries does not want him to get injured so bad that he will not be able to participate in some of the harder games that are to come.

A few minutes after Ellsesser was sent home Rogers playing end suffered a broken nose in an attempted tackle. Dr. Micklethwait set the nose in place and the plucky little player got back into the game.

The Jackson team will bring a team that will outweigh P. H. S., but this does not frighten the locals who expect to show the Jackson county eleven some real football. The Red and Blue eleven is anxious to run up a big score on Jackson to make up for the points scored against them by Hamilton.

This game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

State Hopeful Of Beating Michigan Team

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—Hopeful but not over confident, Ohio State's football team will leave tonight for Ann Arbor where it will do battle with Michigan's powerful eleven tomorrow in a game that is expected to have considerable learning on this street lot.

Approximately 6,000 rooters from Columbus expected to leave today and tomorrow by train and automobile to see the game. Two special trains will leave tonight and six tomorrow morning's Western Conference championship.

Ohio State's uniformed band of sixty pieces will leave tonight. The Buckeye rooters expect to stage a big parade and demonstration in Ann Arbor prior to the game. Governor Harry L. Davis and his family will motor to the game.

Elementary Teams Ready For Big Games

Three hard fought games are expected in the elementary football contests tomorrow morning on the Sixteenth street lot.

The standing of the teams now shows two tied for first, Highland and Bond, two for second place, Garfield and Union and two for the cellar position, McKinley and Massie.

The main battle of the morning will be between Bond and Highland the undefeated eleven. One is sure to bite the dust tomorrow morning. Highland has a well organized team but it does not possess that fighting spirit found in the players on the Bond eleven.

Going into the game knowing that their opponents will endeavor to win with trick plays, etc., the Bond school boys will fight all the harder and Highland is warned not to expect anything easy this time. Both teams will use their best lineups for this important engagement. They will meet in the second game of the morning which will start about 9:30 o'clock.

The first game to start at 8:30 will be between Garfield and Union. The third will be fought out between Massie and McKinley. This will be the third Saturday for the elementary school league which is bringing to light some promising players for high school football material.

The Ironton Register Thursday said: The Wildcats, a fast football eleven of the South Side under the coaching of Ralph Lauter, a football star, will hook up with the Junior Smoke House team of the River City Sunday afternoon at Portsmouth. A great game is expected, as the Wildcats expect to take the scalps of the Portsmouth lads. The lineup follows:

New League

The Buckeye Volleyball League was formed last night when the representatives of the teams met at the Bureau of Community Service offices and organized.

It was decided to limit the League to six teams, the Cleaners First Presbyterian, Standard Supply, N. & W. Black Diamonds and White Mules. The last having selected that organization on account of the stiff punch they carry.

W. W. Bierley was unanimously elected president of the new organization, and Dr. W. E. Gault, vice-president with Edward Gillman, secretary. The same rules as the other two leagues had drawn up by the last, except that no age limit was set, but instead only players who were working were declared eligible, thus cutting out all high school students.

The Buckeye League will play at the Parlor House, Fourth and Court streets. The schedule for the opening rounds is as follows:

Monday, Oct. 24—Standard Supply vs. First Presbyterian.
Tuesday, Oct. 25—White Mules vs. Cleaners.

Wednesday, Oct. 26—Black Diamonds vs. N. & W.
Thursday, Oct. 27—Cleaners vs. Black Diamonds.
Friday, Oct. 28—First Presbyterian vs. N. & W.
Saturday, Oct. 29 at 3:00 p. m.—White Mules vs. Standard Supply.

Overlin which still is swelling its chest over the defeat handed State will play Hiram at Oberlin.

Kentucky Wesleyan will go to Cincinnati to stack up against the University of Cincinnati's team.

The Case-Wesleyan game at Wooster is attracting attention because of the time showing made so far this season by the Wooster team. Other games scheduled are:

Ohio Northern vs. Akron, at Akron.
Ohio U. vs. Denison, at Granville.
Oberlin vs. Heidelberg, at Tiffin.
Kenyon vs. Mt. Union, at Alliance.
Ohio Wesleyan vs. Miami, at Oxford.

All of the 42,000 seats in the enlarged ferry field stadium were sold two weeks ago.

Tomorrow's game will mark the official opening of the enlarged stadium. The dedication ceremony will include a parade about the field by the Ohio and Michigan bands. Governor Harry L. Davis, of Ohio, and Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, of Michigan, will be on the field. Nearly six thousand seats have been reserved for the Ohio delegation.
